COMMENT OF BETTY ALDEN ON SOCIETY Young Married Contingent Form Colony in Cambridge

By BETTY ALDEN.
NOW that winter is fast approaching, many society may have been sitting in the new homes of young people who were married in the summer or early fall and who are settling down after prolonged wedding journeys. Several couples, it is being made known, are making their homes in Cambridge so that the "head of the house" may follow his course at Harvard. Among this group are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Worke (Edmondsville, N.J.), who are at No. 144 Massachusetts avenue, while the former husband lives at Harvard Law School, where he is now a senior. The Cambridge wedding was solemnized at King's Chapel last June, and was distinctly one of the most notable of the many June weddings. Following their marriage Mr. Worke and his bride left for the West to spend the summer with the former's family in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Marchand Patterson (Eliz. Patterson) have also taken an apartment in the city across the Charles, so that Mr. Patterson may complete his course at the university. The young people, who both came from New York, were married September 18, in fashionable Trinity Church at Lakeville, where they were the guests of the bride's family. It was necessary for Herbert Patterson, father of the bride, to have a witness, which was stationed about twenty minutes before the wedding. The bride's younger sister, Mary, a debutante of last year, was married at the same time to Richard Saltonstall.

No. 181 Chestnut street has been chosen as the future residence of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Conover (Barbara Wane), who were married in February. Also there for the winter will be Mr. and Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw, Jr. (Augustine Van Wyck), as they were two years ago. Last season they spent at Calicut, Mich. Likewise on Chestnut street, at No. 85, will be Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Saltonstall (Kathryn Latham), who were married in June at All Saints' Church, Brookline.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wheeler (Agnes Drew) will make their home at No. 35 Mount Vernon street. Their wedding in mid-June at Beverly Farms was one of the most fashionable social events of the North Shore. Mrs. Wheeler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stuart Drew.

On Chestnut Hill way, at No. 47 Lawrence road, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prince Beal, Jr., will find them removed for the winter. The bride was formerly Miss Lafferty Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morgan of New York. Her marriage to young Beal took place last August at "Clifford," the summer estate in Vermont, on Lake Champlain, of the bride's parents. Later in the season, the young couple visited the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prince Beal, at their magnificent place at Beverly Farms.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Toordine (Caroline Weyth) are at No. 1 Greenwood street, Brookline, following a summer at the North Shore. The couple were married in June at St. James' Church, New York, the former home of the bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Stephen O. Williams of No. 1154 Park avenue.

There was great interest shown among the society set in the Long Island Stakes held at the Meadow Brook Hunt Club of Long Island, N. Y. The fastest whippers in the United States and Canada were entered in the twelve races on the card, twenty-five winners being entered in all.

Among the entrants was Harvard "Buckerman," Jr. of Boston, owner of Black Prince, and Bayard Warren's newly-imported Barbary Hill Flyer. The two dogs attracted the most attention were Glickman's Tommy, winner of the American derby at Hamilton, Mass., and Man 'o' War, the Canadian entrant, winner of eight of the Canadian races, including the Canadian derby.

The racing was not a commercial proposition and the entrance fees merely covered the victuals and the expense of the meet. Proceeding the race luncheon was served at the Meadow Brook Club.

Betty Alden GILBODY IN FIGHT FOR CITY COUNCIL

George F. Gilbody of Dorchester, news writer, has announced his candidacy for the City Council. Gilbody's decision to become a candidate followed the announcement of City Councilman Walter L. Collins that he would not be a candidate for reelection. In announcing his candidacy Mr. Gilbody said he had decided to do so at the persistent urging of his friends and because of an honorable desire to be of public service, and he served his country in France.

"All that I have to say in regard to public issues is that it may be your duty to consider questions affecting the interests of the city society upon their merits," said Gilbody.

Miss Hope Colwell is one of Boston's younger set who is working for the Army and Navy Club which is doing such good work among disabled war veterans. Miss Colwell was a "salesgirl" at a rummage sale held recently at the Army and Navy clubhouse on Park Square.

BILL POSTERS TO HAVE BALL TOMORROW NIGHT
All set for the grand theatrical ball at the International Hotel at 1111 Tremont and 11th Street of the United States and Canada.

The show for the affair which is to be held in connection with the New Year's Eve ball, has been completed by the posters before. Among the posters is Thomas L. Landon, the member of the Colonial Club, who is the "most popular" of the ball posters, who has attracted to him one of the most successful shows. "Two Little Girls in Blue" to help out the cause, the ball will open at 8 o'clock and will continue until "lights out" at 11.

That is an easy content the Boston Daily Advertiser is conducting. The show is a dollar in the pocket for those who know the movie players. So make! Better look into this.

Fresh yeast has been proved by recent scientific tests to be a valuable food for correcting run-down condition, constipation, indigestion and certain skin disorders. These original tests were all made with Fleischmann's Yeast. Beware of untested yeast-vitamin preparations that contain drugs or other chemicals. Fleischmann's Yeast (fresh) is a pure food, rich in vitamins, in which it measures up to the high standards set by laboratories and hospitals. The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast for health is sold.

Obviously, enough, these mothers didn't have the advantage of education that their children had.

LADIES MUST BE BEAUTIFUL! Society women, to combat the ravages of too many plain teas, confectionery and afternoon naps, have been forced to take up gymnastic exercises that they may retain slender figures and keep "that schoolgirl complexion." Both Boston and New York society women are taking keenly to indoor gymnastics. Photo shows Mrs. Edgar Lewis enjoying a little fencing with Arthur A. McGovern, a gymnastic instructor. (W. W.)

WHEN BABY FLIVVERED! The earliest contraption in a baby carriage and James W. Hughes (above) was the last "baby" to ride in it. Carriage was made in 1808. Presented to Oldest Inhabitants' Association. (W. W.)

Do This Tonight

Watch the quick effects—see the change in a week

Present this coupon to your dealer. He will give you a delightful ten-day test of a new teeth-cleaning method which millions are employing.

Watch the effects, quick, pleasant and conspicuous. Watch the new luster that comes. In ten days let your mirror tell you the way to pretty teeth.

Leading dentists everywhere advise this method now. You will see and feel the reason when you make this test.

End the dingy film

The chief purpose is to fight film. This vicious coat, which you can feel, causes dingy teeth and also most tooth troubles. Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and rays. The old ways of brushing do not end it. So film-coats night and day threaten serious damage.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing. Despite the daily brushing with old methods, very few escaped them.

Free All This Week

This 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent. Simply present the coupon. This test will prove a delightful revelation. It will show you the way which millions have found to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. This offer is for one week only. It means much to you and yours. Act now.

An ideal diet would do these same things, but few people get it. So dental science now needs the tooth paste to bring these desired effects.

Pepsodent will daily bring you five great benefits which the old ways did not bring. Together they mean a new era in teeth cleaning.

Men's tobacco stains

Men who smoke stain their film-coats with tobacco. The use of Pepsodent brings them conspicuous effects.

Food stains with women make these film-coats dingy. The gleaming teeth seen everywhere now show how Pepsodent removes them.

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to film and starch attacks. Very few escape them. Dentists advise that they use Pepsodent from the time the first tooth appears.

Watch teeth whiten

The results of Pepsodent are quickly seen and felt. No user can long doubt them. A book we send explains the reasons for them. A very short test will convince you that this new way is essential.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the vicious film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Then you will see and feel and know that Pepsodent is necessary. You will realize that old methods were not right. And this discovery may bring life-long benefits both to you and yours. Present this coupon to any dealer named this week. Cut it out now.

Says Father Time Waits for Nobody--That's Why You Never See a Picture of Him

With a Woman

When you see a woman standing in the corner waiting, you know she's waiting. If she was married her husband would be waiting.

A man doesn't have to wait any longer. He can get a woman to wait for him.

He stands there, thinking he won't show up, but afraid she will.

He waits for a girl as long as he can, but he never gets a picture of her.

BOGASH-MALONE FIGHT VICTOR AT C.A.C. SHOW

By JACK CONWAY

The winner of the quarter between Jack Bogash and Louis Malone will have plenty of opportunities to keep busy in the ring.

The boxing firm of Carter & Conroy, two perfectly matched, 10-ounce fighters, informed the public that the fight between Bogash and Malone will take place on the 10th of July. The only fight of the kind that has been staged in the city since the war was the bout between the two fighters at the C.A.C. show.

As for Malone and Bogash, both of them are young men who are in the prime of their lives. They are both of the same height, 5 feet 10 inches, and both are 140 pounds. They are both of the same age, 25 years, and both are from the same place, Boston.

Tommy Robins, veteran middleweight, will have Frank Johnson as his opponent in a twelve-round bout at the C.A.C. show. Johnson has been making a name for himself in the ring since he came to the city from the South. He is a powerful fighter and is expected to give Robins a hard time.

Give Foch Big Welcome

Undemonstrative Boston Should Show This Really Great Man Its Opinion of Him

When Marshal Foch comes to Boston we hope that our reserved and rather undemonstrative citizens will show this great French soldier how much we really admire him. It does a visitor little good to admire him within ourselves.

Strangers are not mind readers and an undemonstrative community which feels much more deeply than a community that carries its feelings on its coat sleeves can seem to feel very much less, to a stranger.

Marshal Foch is really a great man. He is one of the very few great men the war on our side produced. He is one of those men that grow up in a republic, simple, modest, but truly great. Every father and mother must appreciate that Marshal Foch's military capacity saved thousands upon thousands of the lives of the young men of New England. We must honor him for that and we must turn out to show him how much we honor him for that, in a way which he, as a Frenchman, will understand, for Frenchmen are much more demonstrative than Americans, and Americans, generally, are more demonstrative than New Englanders.

Next Monday is the day when Marshal Foch reaches Boston. The Mayor set it aside as Foch Day and he asks the business men and the residents to decorate their buildings and homes in becoming fashion, and he asks everybody to turn out and give him, not a royal, but a democratic welcome which will be a thousand times better to the simple, democratic soldier, whose democratic camaraderie with his men made a most painful contrast to the conduct of some of our own officers.

Ulster a Problem to Britain

Amazing How Government Allows Itself to Be Led Around by the Nose

The most amazing thing we know of in current history is the way in which the British Government permits itself to be led around by the nose by a handful of cantankerous privilege-seeking and privilege-holding men in Ulster.

In the first place, their original title was obtained by force and fraud against the Irish people. The Irish people have never recognized it from that day to this. In the second place, there never has been a year or a month or a day during that long period from the time they dispossessed the Irish people in the north by force and arms until this day, that they did not abuse the power which the partiality of the British Government gave them in Ireland. In the third place, they precipitated this whole trouble, which is now a running sore in the vitals of the British Empire, by the rankiest kind of treason in 1914, when they openly defied the British law, organized for rebellion, imported German arms and munitions, and their leader, Carson, declared that he would rather have the Kaiser and the privileges they had here, than foregoed, than the King and equality with the great majority of the Irish people.

Now in the teeth of these notorious facts, the British Government finds itself unable to take this contemptible and presumptuous little Ulster thistle firmly enough in the hand to stop its pricking.

It is a phenomenon unequalled in history. However, it is a problem for the British Government and President De Valera and his associates, with dignity and firmness, are insisting that the British Government shall solve it.

Corey Hill Hospitals

Exonerating of Maintaining Improper Conditions Comes as Welcome Decision by Brookline Board

We are glad to learn that the Brookline Board of Health has exonerated the hospitals on Corey Hill of any guilt for maintaining nuisances or for any unsanitary or improper conditions.

The charge that these hospitals were not properly conducted must have come as a great shock to the thousands of people hereabouts, who have been inmates of these hospitals at one time or another and who never saw anything except perfect conditions at all of them. Therefore they are not surprised that an investigation has dissipated the criticism.

New Head of Schools

The Boston American congratulates our new superintendent of schools, Jeremiah E. Burke. We have no doubt that he will keep up the standards. It is the most important position in Boston, for the education of our children is the most important task which our government performs for us, or rather which we perform in our organized capacity as a government.

We note that Mr. Burke intends to preserve Mr. Thompson's policy. This is well.

Mail Tubes Coming Back

The announcement that the pneumatic tube transportation of mail in Boston will be restored is welcome. It ought never to have been abandoned by the Postoffice Department under the Wilson administration.

Every interest depending upon postal service seemed to have opposed the abandonment of the pneumatic service. Certainly the use of trucks in our crowded, crooked streets to carry mail which could be sent by subway pneumatic service was a throw-back to the dark ages.

Bonus Beaten Despite Walsh

The United States Senate has defeated the bonus bills again. Our soldiers and their friends will find comfort in the fact that our own Senator David I. Walsh did everything that was possible for a Senator to do to promote the passage of the soldiers' bonus.

The war profiteers, however, had their way.

Imagination

TOO MANY MARRIED WOMEN WORKING

Nellie Bly Shows How Well Supported Wives Take Jobs Merely to Obtain Fine Dress and Luxuries and Thus Keep Needy Girls Idle

By Nellie Bly

It is very easy to readjust affairs so that in these times of depression none will starve and none will be compelled to become objects of charity.

It only requires good judgment and a determination on the part of Americans to make the country successful and to prevent its being pauperized.

The married women stay at home. The widow, the deserted wife and the single girl all positions. I have seen thousands of married women who occupy, for two or three hours a day, positions in order to add both to their pin money and their circle of acquaintances. Let the men who are men support their wives and insist upon their wives making homes for them.

There is just as much shame upon the man who permits his wife to work as there is upon the wife who works. They are both a discredit to the marriage tie.

Why Married Women Work

All women are made and always will be made for the married woman when circumstances compel her to work. Richness, the lack of occupation and a thousand other reasons may drive her from her home, but only to support herself and to help support her husband. Such women, in a business condition, deserve the greatest praise and consideration.

It is only the married woman who is too frivolous to be a wife and to be a mother. And she is therefore sure that you can solve this problem for me and teach others a good lesson.

"I was married a year ago to the man I loved and who still loves me. Things went fine until the change in business conditions when my husband had to give up his place and look for a job. He was unable to get a position for a long time, but I who had a good position before I was married was asked by my employer to come back, as he really needed me to take charge of his place, which I did. During the year I was married I went down every month to fix up his accounts.

"Now the people living at the same place I do TALK! Now that is worrying my husband and he wants me to stop working, which I cannot do, as the salary my husband makes is not enough to keep us both, with prices still so high. Please tell me what I could do to stop the BUREAUCRATS and make things easier for my husband."

"Assuring you that I will appreciate the trouble you will take in this matter, I beg to remain."

"Respectfully yours," "P. K."

Here is a woman undoubtedly able to live at home and be supported by her husband. If she would be satisfied by having fewer luxuries, the "husy-bodics" cannot be blamed for talking, nor her husband for being ashamed. She married him for better or worse, and although he may not be able to give her all that he could when he had a business of his own, instead of filling a job, still it is her duty to stay at home, economize, and make the salary he earns in made to fit her requirements, and he to him what ever real man wants a housewife, a comforter, a home maker.

"Dear Miss Bly—I read with interest your article for the last two days on the matter situation, and it certainly was good to know that there was one person 'all American'."

How could you not take the time some of these days to write on this following subject, which is in a worse state than before the war?

"The discharging from all offices of married women holding positions. Everywhere you turn you are confronted with the 'married woman hour' taking the bread out of the mouth of a single woman who is supporting her parents, brothers or sisters. These women draw large salaries as do their husbands, and still they insist on keeping the single woman out of the position."

"I am an expert secretary-stenographer, supporting both parents who are over seventy years of age, have ten years active and practical experience, earned at one wage of the same $35 per week, taking technical dictation."

"Now I am working in a silk house for $25 per week, which is highest to make nice meet, and all because we have the competition of the married women who have helped pull down the salaries."

Perhaps among your business acquaintances, there is someone in need of a competent secretary, or perhaps you know of some elderly lady who could use the service of a secretary-companion? If so, I would greatly appreciate an interview."

"Respectfully submitted," "Dear Miss Bly: As you are and have always been a good friend of the unemployed, I wish to draw your attention to one unjust act on the part of employers and heads of departments."

"At the present time there are hundreds of girls and women out of work through no fault of their own. Most all have some one dependent upon them, these are the office workers, addressers, folders, typists, and filers."

"Why cannot they get work?" "The simple reason the positions are all filled by married women whose husbands are in good positions; in fact, many hold city jobs."

"These women want to dress and use up all their earnings for the purpose, and single women who are lucky enough to have work have to sit beside them and listen to a recital of the extravagant luxuries they purchase each week."

"If a room were made of offices in Broad and Wall streets, the magazine and publishing houses, you would find three-fourths of the women working are children married women, who work cheaper, and of course dress beyond the means of an ordinary worker."

"Is there any address for this? Yours for justice," "D. F. H."

Employers Should Get Busy

Will not the employers think this over and consider the wage-worker who has no one to support her? Won't they, for the sake of humanity, no over the heads of their employees and dismiss the women who don't have to work? Let them try to put themselves in closer sympathy with the wage-earner. Suppose their mothers or sisters had to be self-supporting and that they were forced to suffer hunger and every privation because their husbands were employed whose husbands were not doing their jobs. There is no question but that every business in New York has a large number of married women employed. Perhaps there is no worse offender in this respect than government, city and State offices."

Washington itself is the worst offender. The women's clubs there, as well as here, should take up this problem and exert every effort to get the women who need a job. Washington has hundreds of married women employed whose husbands are also holding comfortable government positions."

These women are a blight and a shame to womanhood. They take husbands without any intention of supporting their marital obligations and they deprive women who must work from being self-supporting."

CULTIVATE REAL PEOPLE

Really well-bred persons can never be classed as "antipy."

Words while men and women do not estimate your worth from the amount of money you have nor from the pinnacle of your social position. Of course, a big majority judge from a financial standpoint, but the real "blue blood," as some have called the true-blue aristocrat, places character and intelligence above everything else.

When you have met certain persons of high social and financial standing you have been surprised by their commonplace manner, their simple, everyday human characteristics.

It is because they are real people, not sham. There is something back of them which establishes them on a firm foundation, and they do not have to assume any sort of character. They are big and strong and independent enough to be and appear truly what they are.

Those persons who are most attracted by strong aristocratic family ties, connections and traditions are the least estimable. They are the ones who value you for just what you are,

HAD A GOLD MINE IN HER OWN HEART

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1921, by Winifred Black

SHE'S written a story.

"It isn't a novel and it isn't a short story, and it isn't a sketch, and it isn't a 'study' in this, that or the other thing, so I don't see just where it is going to fit in. But she's written it, anyhow, and the other day she brought it over to my house to read aloud to one or two of us."

We were none of us editors or readers for any large publication and we couldn't do a thing about it after we'd heard it—but she said she'd feel "more confident" after she'd read it to us.

In a Mood for the Story

Maybe she did—I don't think I felt much more confidence myself, though.

It was a lovely day. The sun was bright, but not too warm. There was a nice little breeze and from the shady porch we caught a hint of blue water and now and then the sheen of a snow-white sail.

The panels down by the steps were like bright, inquisitive little faces, and there was something about the fragrance of the magnolias that really—

So we were quite in the mood for the story.

"What's it going to be about?" "I thought, 'school or the convent or home or some of the girls and 'leaves'—Wouldn't it be wonderful if a bright girl of ready sympathy would write a book and tell us exactly how things look in a girl's point of view?"

"We'd be astonished most of us—there's very little doubt of that."

"Shocked, too, I suppose, and maybe a little indignant—but what a sensation it would create. People would write letters to the papers about it—ministers would preach on it—actors in the vaudeville houses would make jokes about the hero—dear me, I can hardly wait for her to begin to read!"

And when she did begin—it wasn't about girls at all the story was about school or about the convent."

It was about the desert, the wide, mysterious, terrifying, alluring desert. And there were sandstorms in it and lost mines and rough prospectors and murders and abductions and dance hall girls, and a heroine as good as gold and an queer—as heroines have a way of being in this year of grace, 1921.

Oh, it was not a bad story, as such stories go. There really was a good deal in it, when you came to think of it—but, somehow, it didn't take me long to hear a lot about the desert and sandstorms and hidden gold mines ever since the first began to concentrate on them.

I don't know much about desert mines, or hidden gold mines, and I'm afraid I'm not very much interested in them.

I wonder if there aren't a good many people like me in the book-reading world.

Gold Mine in Her Heart

Hidden gold mines—why, there had one right in her own heart. If she had only written the book out of her own life, if she had only taken it by the hand and led us into the queer little world where she lives, the desert, the judge parties and examination papers and new beads and ruffled skirts, how short can a girl wear her skirt and still be—don't you know?

How fun it would have been and how we all should have scrambled to get the book. If you had been in my place, what would you have told her?

Wit and Wisdom

The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they can't possibly make some of their victims too small, nor the desert mills do.

The home ties that we love so well and which praise in rhyme. Are not the home ties that we get From wife at Christmas time.

DEMOCRATIC WOMAN AND CAVE MAN

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

WHAT does the democratic woman want to be?—friendship, mating, and marriage?

Does she want a cave-man or her own tribe translated into masculine terms?

If she wants a cave-man, she should have one. If serves her right. She knows no better and she deserves no more. Indeed, it would serve the man right, too, if he found the female of that species his rival in deadliness.

Talking biologically—which is by no means the highest, though it is an unescapable aspect of relationship between man and woman—it is perfectly natural the human female to wish, instinctively, to be "possessed" by the male.

But human nature is no longer "natural." For hundreds of thousands of years, mankind has been evolving.

There are about as many artificial and desirable attributes to our nature, since we parted company with our simian cousins, as there are in our survival of our original animality.

All human beings on the earth today are, of course, members of the human race. But, by no means, are we all in the same stage of development in human nature.

Not only is a President Harding almost as far from a Zulu chieftain as it is from a bee, but even in any of our communities of the United States there are amazing ranges of evolution from lowly animal to lordly man.

Many in Yourself

Indeed, to become a bit more personal, you would be surprised—if you were brave and was enough to perform a living autopsy upon your spirit—to discover how many of these stages of evolution are represented in yourself!

If, as is likely, you are an average person, the qualities in your makeup probably prove that you run the gamut from the lowest to the highest, potentially, from the brute and bestial, and also that you are, possibly, kind and near and saint!

And each of these, on occasion, peers out through your eyes. Happy the man who can so organize and master and direct the elements commingled in him as to make the finer stuff in his nature represent him—keep him above the cream of his being on top.

The cave-man, on the other hand, is a creature before whose survival, whose present make-up is dominated by his primitive animal heritage.

And the woman who likes that sort of man, whether for casual acquaintance or for the revealing intimacy of marriage, is a creature who merely wants her mate, a mate of her own kind!

No truly democratic woman can possibly wish for the companionship of the cave-man.

If you ever chance upon such a seeming combination, you may be sure that the woman is "reverted"; perhaps "temporarily reverting" to her female animality.

In all upward and forward movements, the human machine has been the standard bearer of the race and the conservator of the qualities which humanity has gained.

Upward and On

As the world-philosopher and poet, the German Goethe has put it, figuratively: "The eternally feminine leads us upward and on!"

The democratic woman inherits, with incalculably increased responsibility, the standards of her race. The making of our democratic civilization is in her hands.

Age of evolution, blossoming in the democratic girl of our day, are bringing to her emancipation from the cave-man and to her customers pleasure with as long as followed the human race and prevented the free and fine relationship of the sexes.

That woman is not only loyal to democracy but loyal to the holy ideal of womanhood who accepts the cave-man's tolerance any manifestations of such traits surviving in even the most nearly modern kind of men.

What you want, for any degree of relationship with men, is your own nobility, aristocratically demonstrated by translated into masculine terms.

Men are, in the long run, what women want them to be. Therefore, if you are not yet physically, do you conceive and bear up, but not expect to imagine, desire, will, and create us!

Again, because, biologically and spiritually, it is inevitable that we should wish to mate and to love, we are in your hands for the moment, in the image of your ideal.

Therefore, if you are not yet physically, do you conceive and bear up, but not expect to imagine, desire, will, and create us!

men, meaning death to the cave-man, or to the most late being the democratic man.
